

TV lessons

Staten Island Cable subscribers don't get to watch the Golf Channel, but Kelley Brooke of the LPGA and the Staten Island Golf Practice Center is doing her best to bring golf instruction to local television. Brooke has gathered enough sponsors to put together a series of 10 half-hour shows that will begin airing on May 18 on channel 57.

On the show, entitled "On The Tee," Brooke will be addressing the most common problems facing golfers of all degrees and makes good use of many local hackers as "students." The show offers some interesting tips on the physical and mental game as well as valuable inside information on golf equipment supplied by SIGPC Director Bill Ryan of the PGA. The entire series was taped at the SIGPC. The first show will air at 9 p.m. on May 18.
